SCHOOL LAND BILL PASSES HOUSE MONDAY

The bill to authorize the National Park Service to trade 23 acres of federal land east of the Gettysburg High School to the Gettysburg Joint School District for another tract of approximately equal value passed the House of Representatives in Washington, D. C., Monday and now is ready for the signature of President Eisenhower.

The bill, introduced in both houses soon after Congress convened early this year, passed the House by unanimous consent, clearing it to the President's desk.

The measure was passed early in June by the Senate.

Change From Sale To Trade

The negotiations between the school district, the National Park Service and the owner or owners of land to be used in the exchange of tracts between the Park Service and the school district are expected to await the President's signature. That was indicated at a meeting of the Planning Committee of the Gettysburg Joint School District last Friday evening.

The bill in the form in which it was introduced originally by U. S. Senator Edward Martin and Congressman S. Walter Stauffer, provided for outright sale of the 23-acre tract between the high school property and E. Confederate Ave. with the money to be earmarked for future land purchases by the National Park. Government attorneys ruled the earmarking could not be permitted and that the money from the sale would have to go into the general treasury of the United States with money for future purchases by the Park Service available only by Congressional action.

Can't Buy Land To Trade

It was then that the Park Service proposed the trade arrangement by which the Park Service would be authorized to exchange the land the school district seeks for a tract of greater historical value and approximately equal worth. It was in this form that the bill passed.

The Planning Committee was told last Friday that it could not buy land or an option on land it does not intend to use for school purposes. The present plan is for the school district to secure an option without cost on land suitable to the National Park Service and then turn the option and additional cash to cover the purchase price over to the Park Service in return for which the school district would get title to the land which has been recommended as the site for a new elementary school building.

Decisions on the purchase price and exact use to which the federal land will be put remain to be made by the joint school board.

CALL THOMAS TO STATE MEET ON THURSDAY

Edmund W. Thomas, president of the First National Bank of Gettysburg and chairman of the Committee on National Legislation of the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce, will attend a meeting in Harrisburg Thursday called by the state chamber to consider the mechanics of establishing and operating a Citizens' Committee which will express Pennsylvania's views on federal-state relations.

Invited to the meeting are Pennsylvanians who attended the U. S. Chamber Conference on Federal-State relations in June and the heads of five state chamber study committees.

The meeting was called after President Eisenhower signed a bill early this month creating a 25 member Commission on Intergovernmental Relations. The President will appoint 15 members, not more than nine of them to be of the same political party. Three Republican Senators and Representatives and two Democratic Senators and Representatives will be appointed by Vice President

Complains About Guide Service

The following self-explanatory letter was received by Dr. J. Walter Coleman, superintendent of the Battlefield, from a recent visitor from McVeytown, Pa.:

"Recently I visited Gettysburg with some friends who were not familiar with Gettysburg or the Battlefield; and I engaged the services of a ..... (guide's name deleted) to guide us. It has been a long time since I have had such an unpleasant, uninteresting, sonorous - toned and rushed conducted tour than I had. Perceiving that the gentleman was anxious to get the 'business over with,' I spent two extra hours re-conducting my party over the field. Although I am not rich in material things, I would gladly have paid $10 rather than have spoiled my day's plans with the extra time that it was necessary for me to take. Had I not been somewhat of a student of American History and have had several trips prior to this to Gettysburg, I should have been completely lost.

"I have heard this same complaint from others . . . and I assume that it was not about the same guide . . . so much thought, money and time has been put into this great national memorial that it is unfortunate that so many trips to the field are not conducted so that the most may be made of them.

"Can this guide service be improved? I should much appreciate knowing your reaction to my reaction."

COUNTY CIVIL DEFENSE FUNDS REACH $48,763

Adams County fire departments received allocations of $48,763 in matching funds from the federal government for purchase of equipment to be used in Civil Defense during the fiscal year ending June 30, State Civil Defense Director Richard Gerstell reported today to County Civil Defense Director William G. Weaver.

Weaver said the amount covered the fire truck purchased by Bendersville, the rescue truck bought by Gettysburg, the fire truck ordered by Fairfield, and miscellaneous smaller equipment including portable pumps, fire hose, rescue equipment and other minor emergency and fire equipment such as gas masks, nozzles, etc., secured by a number of other fire departments in the county.

In each case the federal government provided an amount up to half of the cost of the equipment, while the local fire departments will pay the remainder.

53 Counties Get Funds

Some of the equipment has already been received while others, like the fire trucks and rescue truck, are on order and will be secured within the near future. The allocation was made in each instance by the federal government Civil Defense fund officials before the local companies ordered the equipment.

Gerstell reported that 53 of Pennsylvania's 67 counties took advantage of the matching funds plan during the year and "ordered emergency equipment and supplies to the tune of $3,374,586. A total of 736 fund applications was received at State Civil Defense headquarters. Of this number 629 formally were approved by the Federal Civil Defense Administration. The federal government will provide $1,687,293 of the more than $3,374,586 amount with the remainder coming from the local funds. Approximately 75 per cent of the amount expended will go for fire fighting apparatus."

Fair Employment Practices Bill Killed By Committee

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Senate Judiciary General Committee today killed Gov. John S. Fine's fair employment practices bill as it did in the 1951 session.

The vote was 16 against and 8 for the House-passed measure designed to ban discrimination in jobs or union membership because of race, color, creed or national origin.

The Senate committee, headed by Chairman John M. Walker (R-Allegheny) acted on the controversial legislation only a few days after it passed the House last Thursday by an overwhelming vote of 152-29, with 105 votes necessary.

Walker said the vote was taken in secret ballot at the closed committee session.

"After careful discussion of the bill," Walker told reporters as the meeting broke up, the members voted two-to-one to keep it in committee.

All 24 members were present at the meeting.

"It was a very fair and impartial consideration of the problem involved," Walker said. "I believe every member approached it with an open mind."

The six Democratic members went into the session with announced intention of voting to report out the bill.

Walker also said he would vote for the measure but voiced an opinion before the meeting that a statement by the governor that the committee was "notoriously packed" against the legislation hurt its chances.

The governor had sought to detour the bill to another Senate session.

CREDIT BUREAU TO ELECT BOARD OF 14 DIRECTORS

Plans to elect a permanent board of directors by August 20 were outlined at a meeting of the temporary directors of the Credit Bureau of Adams County, held at the Bureau office Monday evenong.

G. Marion Stambaugh, chairman of the election committee, displayed a map of the county divided into seven districts for the purpose of the credit bureau organization. Each of the districts, he said, will elect a director for each ten or major fractions of ten members in the district.

In that way, he pointed out, each district will have representation in the permanent board.

To Elect 14 Directors

The Gettysburg area with 58 members will be entitled to six members on the board of directors; The Fairfield-Cashtown district, with five members, will have one director; the Biglerville-Arendtsville - Aspers - Bendersville area with 24 members will be entitled to two directors; New Oxford - Abbottstown - New Chester, with nine, will have one; East Berlin-Hampton, with eight, will have one; Littlestown with 16 members will have two directors; and York Springs-Heidlersburg with six members will have one director.

A total of 14 directors will be elected by the membership from the seven districts, Stambaugh explained.

He also presented a sample ballot, which was approved by the board. The ballots, listing all members within a particular district, will be mailed to the members in each district. They will be asked to return their ballots by August 20. At that time the ballots will be opened and those with the largest number of votes will become the directors.

Have 126 Members

A meeting will be held shortly after August 20 at which the newlypelected directors will draw for one, two or three-year terms.

The staggered terms for the first set of directors was decided upon

MASONIC CAMP WILL BE OPENED AT BREAM'S DAM

The Good Samaritan Hunting and Fishing Club will go camping again this summer—as it has for more than a half century.

But the traditional site will be changed. After many years of camping along Rock Creek, near its juncture with Marsh Creek, near Harney, the camp this year will be transferred to the Harvey Warner cottage along Marsh Creek at Bream's Dam, near the old Black Horse Tavern property.

Clarence C. Smith, president of the club, said the change was made because Rock Creek, which once flowed to a depth of eight feet at the camp site, is now "only a shallow trickle of water there.

More Convenient

Smith pointed out that in addition to being near a larger body of water, the new camp will also be more convenient to Gettysburg.

Approximately 20 members are expected to be in "permanent residence" at the camp when it opens Monday. About 15 others will commute, spending the nights at the camp and the day at their regular work.

Charles W. Myers is the only surviving member of the original group which established the camp back in the days when transportation was by horse and buggy.

Robert M. Smith will have charge of the commissary. Those planning to attend are asked to notify either the president or the commissary chairman.

4 - H CALF CLUB PLANS 1ST TOUR ON WEDNESDAY

The club members will meet Wednesday evening at 6:45 o'clock at the Court House here to go as a group to the farm of C. B. Spicer, Gettysburg R. D., and the farm of Mrs. Hobson Crouse on the Table Rock Rd. to inspect the dairy arrangements at those farms.

Another tour, to other dairy farms in the county, will be held in August, with final arrangements for the second tour to be made at the meeting August 17 at the farm of Alexandra and Peter Barnes, Gettysburg R. 2.

Plan Fair Exhibit

A committee comprising Jay Snyder, Kenneth Nace, Joseph Crabill and Alexandra Barnes was named to arrange for the exhibit to be placed by the county dairy club at the South Mountain Fair.

Four members were selected as delegates from the county to the annual Southeast 4-H District Dairy Show to be held at Reading September 29 and 30.

The members who will show their animals at that event are Jay Snyder, Ronald Snyder and Henry Grove, all of Gardners R. D., and Barbara Klocher, Gettysburg R. 4. The presence of the group at the session will mark the first time the county has been represented at the district show.

Several additional members of the county clubs may also place entries at the Reading district show, it was announced following Monday's meeting. Jay and Ronald Snyder were appointed as a committee to arrange transportation for the cows from Adams County to the Reading meet.

BREAKS LEG, RIB RAKING STRAW WITH TRACTOR; FIELD BLAZES

Russell Derr, 54-year-old Gettysburg R. 2 farmer, suffered a fractured rib, a fracture of a bone of the leg and a laceration of one finger Monday evening in connection with a fire in an oats field at his farm near Natural Dam. He was reported in a "satisfactory" condition at the Warner Hospital this morning.

Derr either fell or was thrown from his tractor while raking straw in the oats field near his barn, about the time a section of the field burst into blaze and the tractor ran into a fence, Bernard V. Miller, Chief of the Barlow Fire Company, said.

Little damage was caused by the fire itself, which burned over about an acre of stubble and straw. The oats had been combined Friday and Mr. Derr had gone to the field to rake the straw Monday evening.

Heard Calls For Help

At about 6:40 p.m. his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Heyser, who were placing flooring in a home they are constructing several hundred feet from the Derr farm, heard Mr. Derr shouting for assistance.

They found Mr. Derr's tractor, near the barn, and partway over an embankment with a wire fence preventing the tractor from going farther. The field was ablaze and Mr. Derr was "staggering about," Chief Miller said Heyser told him.

Mr. Heyser took his father-in-law to the Warner Hospital while his wife called the Barlow Fire department and then followed with her mother in another car to the hospital. The fire, which was most intense about the tractor, was then nearing the barn.

Trucks Turned Back

Neighbors called the Gettysburg Fire Department and then rushed to scene to beat out the fire.

The Barlow company soon had the blaze under control with the assistance of the neighbors, and the Gettysburg trucks with one exception were turned back by radio before they reached the scene. The first local truck reached the fire and then dispatched the order to the others to return to the Gettysburg fire house.

The Barlow fire chief said he believed the fire may have started from the tractor, as the straw in the rake was afire, and that Mr. Derr, in attempting to put out the fire and stop the tractor at the same time, fell from the vehicle and suffered the injuries. He apparently cut his hand on some portion of the tractor, as there was blood on the vehicle, Miller said.

Gettysburg's No. 2 fire truck, which had been taken to Sharpsville Monday morning by Assistant Fire Chief Donald Staub and Raymond Menges to fit the emergency equipment of the company into its new Rescue Truck, reported in from McKnightstown enroute home during the fire from Sharpsville, but was told to come on in to the engine house as the fire was under control. It arrived about the time the other engines returned from the fire call.

NEW TURN IN GASPE PROBE

GASPE, Que. (AP)—A sudden turn in the investigation of the fate of three Pennsylvania hunters in dense Gaspe Peninsula wilderness will take provincial police today to the new town of Murdochville, site of Gaspe Copper Mines, Ltd.

The hunters were identified as Eugene H. Lindsey, 45; his son, Richard 17; and Fred Claar, 20, all of Hollidaysburg, Pa. The remains of one of the trio have already been recovered.

Sgt. Henri Doyon, head of the Quebec Provincial Police squad investigating the mysterious disappearance of the three Americans, would not say why police were going to Murdochville. He reported last night that an experienced bushman discovered bones in an old camp fire between two and four miles from where three Americans disappeared in the Quebec wilds June 9.

Sgt. Doyon said that Game Warden Pat Adams reported he found bones when he kicked over the ashes.

HOGAN HOME IN TRIUMPH FROM GOLF CONQUEST

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — Ben Hogan came home today with the third jewel in golf's triple crown—the British Open—and his wife, Valerie, said she hoped he would never try such an undertaking again.

"Ben lost about 20 pounds," Mrs. Hogan, a petite, quiet speaking brunette, said. "He is thoroughly exhausted. I was worried about him.

"I would like to see him not try for any more big championships if he has to work as hard as he did for these. I would rather he start playing just for fun."

Ticker Tape Parade

Hogan looked thin and a bit wan as he docked at 7 a. m., EST, from the U. S. liner United States to await a noon ticker-tape parade and a reception at City Hall such as has not been accorded an American golfer since Bobby Jones won the grand slam in 1930.

In a ship-board interview the wiry Fort Worth, Tex., shotmaster talked like anything but a man who is ready to give up the game.

"I plan to continue playing golf," Hogan said, "and I am certain I will play again in the Open. Whether I play in a British tournament again is a question. That is a long way off. I will decide when the time comes.

Tired Travler, Golfer

"But right now, I am very tired of traveling and very tired of playing golf. The way I feel now I don't know whether I would like to go after these three tournaments again in the same year."

Hogan, who normally weighs about 162 pounds, belying his nickname of "Bantam Ben," said he didn't know his present weight, but imagined he weighed about 145. He is suffering from a slight cold contracted in Scotland.

Asked whether he would try next year for his fifth U. S. Open, which would break the record he now shares with Willie Anderson and Jones, Ben said:

To Enter Business

"I am not going out for records simply for records sake. I am not out to try to beat Jones' marks. I play golf because I like it and I will play again in the Open if everything is favorable."

Hogan disclosed that he is going into the manufacturing business.

"I think I have a revolutionary way of making clubs," he said. "We have made several experimental models and hope to be in production soon. I expect the factory to be set up in Texas, probably around Fort Worth."

Hogan said this new enterprise would not interfere with his golf.

"I don't expect to be a desk man," he added.

LAWYER FOUND DEAD IN TUB

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A prominent attorney and the husband of the deputy state attorney general was found dead in a partially-filled bathtub in his Philadelphia apartment. He was 80-year-old John B. Rutherford.

His body was discovered yesterday after his wife, Louise, became alarmed when there was no response to her telephone call to the apartment from Harrisburg. She notified members of the staff in the law office in Philadelphia which she and her husband maintain. They in turn telephoned the apartment building. A porter was sent to investigate and discovered the body.

Coroner Joseph Ominsky said he believed the lawyer died of a heart attack.

Rutherford was born in Highland Township, Chester County. He studied at Prickett College of Commerce. He was admitted to the bar in 1897 after graduating from the University of Pennsylvania Law School.

Decide To Hold Fall Referendum

HARRISBURG (AP)—A joint House-Senate committee agreed today on a state-wide referendum at the November election to determine if Pennsylvania voters want a new state constitution.

The conference committee was set up to work out a compromise of conflicting bills passed by the House and Senate on revision of the state's 79-year-old constitution, a prime administration objective.

As that controversial question was resolved, Republicans and Democrats in the senate locked horns in a tense political fight over the size of state grants to universities.

Unless that issue is resolved by Thursday it might threaten plans to end the 1953 session this week.

Report In 6 Months

The Commission, authorized to require attendance of witnesses and such data as it needs, must submit its final report by March 1, 1954.

It was explained that the work of the Commission on Intergovernmental Relations will be divided into three major fields: It will determine the proper philosophy of the government, decide which functions should be performed by which level of government under that philosophy and recommend a fiscal and tax structure which will permit each level of government to perform the functions allocated to it under the Commissions' recommendations.

The Pennsylvania Citizens' Commitee, it was explained, will do a research job to help the state government or commission get needed facts; coordinate its findings and recommendations with the National Chamber so that business will have a united front and conduct a statewide educational campaign to create public support for decentralization of government.

3 YOUTHS FACE THREE CHARGES

HARRISBURG (AP) — Three robbery charges were filed today against three youths, on their arrival here from Tennessee for questioning in the slaying of David W. Farber, 79-year-old tourist cabin attendant.

State police flew the three youths here last night from Tennessee where they were arrested Saturday. They were immediately questioned about a series of holdups in the Harrisburg area, one of them a short time before Farber was killed.

Farber, who helped his son, Russell, 46, run the tourist cabins, was shot last Thursday morning as he showed a cabin to a pair of youths. The shooting set off a 13-state search for the pair.

Police believed the elder Farber was killed when he refused to hand over his money on demand. About $40 was found in his pocket.

ORDERS 30 RRS. TO STAND TRIAL

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—U. S. District Judge Thomas J. Clary ruled today that 30 Eastern railroads and the Eastern Railroad Presidents Conference must go to trial in the 250 million dollar anti-trust suit filed against them by a group of trucking firms.

The suit, filed last Jan. 17 by the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association and 37 individual trucking firms, charges the railroads with conspiring with Carl Byoir and Associates, New York public relations firm, to slander and vilify the trucking industry.

any of the charges had to do with alleged attempts to influence legislators against bills to increase weight limits allowed trucks on the highways.

Deposition hearings were ordered soon after the suit was filed and numerous sessions were held both in Philadelphia and New York before the hearings were adjourned until September.

In his opinion, Judge Clary said "the plaintiffs are entitled to their day in court and the opportunity to substantiate their charges."

Last June 11, 9-year-old Paul fell off the back porch of his home and received a slight cut on his arm but there seemed to be no ill effects. A week later he became sick and did. An examination revealed the child had picked up some dirt in the wound and died of tetanus.

FUND ARRANGES BENEFIT GAME IN EMMITSBURG

President Philip B. Sharpe, of the Community Fund of Emmitsburg, announced today that he has acquired the services of the local Pen-Mar Baseball League squad and Camp Detrich baseball nine for a benefit game to be held on Community Field Tuesday evenning, July 28, at 6:15 o'clock.

Each year, the Fund sponsors such a benefit and it is the only means of raising revenue for continuance of its community activities as no public solicitation is made, Sharpe said.

C. A. Elder and Dr. John J. Dillon Jr., in charge of promotion of the game, announced that tickets selling for 50 cents each are now on sale at most business places in town.

Umpires for the contest will be John J. Hollinger behind the plate and Guy R. McGlaughlin on the bases.

The game should prove a treat to baseball fans, Sharpe said, since the Emmitsburg team is in second position in its league and reports from south Frederick County indicate that Camp Detrich has a crack nine.

Soldier Promoted

The Army Ordnance Corps announces the promotion of John S. Hollinger, Emmitsburg, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hollinger, S. Seton Ave., to the rank of corporal. Corp. Hollinger entered the service in October 1951 and expects his discharge this October. He is stationed at Aberdeen, Md., and is currently spending an 11-day furlough here with his family.

C/M George H. McDonnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McDonnell, Emmitsburg, has been transferred from Argentia Field, Newfoundland, where he was serving in the U. S. Navy, to Post Hueneme, California, where he will study electronics.

Plans were outlined for a large number of the members of the organization to take part in a demonstration on court martial procedure at the meeting August 17. The next meeting of the group will be held August 3 at the Air Force ROTC building.

Capt. Evans said the Flight continues to seek members in the Air Force Reserve. The unit, formed just a short time ago, is open to men throughout the county. Sgt. John Lupp, Biglerville, became a member of the unit at Tuesday's meeting.

HOW TO GROW RHODODENDRONS

Rhododendrons are excellent shrubs for the home grounds. But beginners and even experienced growers often encounter many difficult problems with them. Because August and early September is a satisfactory time to start rhododendrons, interested readers are invited to write the editor, enclosing a stamped, addressed envelope, for our rhododendron planting and care instructions. All related shrub questions will be answered at the same time.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Pope Leo Dead: Pope Leo XIII, for 25 years pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church, died at the Vatican Monday. He was 93 years old and his last illness dates from July 4 when he contracted a cold which developed into pneumonia. He retained his mentality to within a few hours of the end. His last hours were attended with much suffering.

The last conscious act of the Pontiff was to turn his eyes toward the great crucifix on the wall, after which he suffered from a paroxysm of choking, during which he expired.

Secretary of State Hay cabled to Cardinal Rampolia President Roosevelt's expression of "his profound sense of the loss the Christian world has sustained in the death of His Holiness Leo XIII."

Robert Caldwell, superintendent of the Water Works, is having pipes laid from the main pipe at the corner of the Crosta lot to the side of the new lodge in the National Cemetery.

Trouble at Gas House: Trouble has arisen between the employers and the employes of the Gettysburg Gas Company. Henry P. Barbehenn, who has been a most faithful employe of the company for the past forty-three years and for many years its efficient superintendent, gave up his position, as did also his son, Edward.

The company paid the Messrs. Barbehenn the small sum of $30 each to run the plant. This is a small sum when one considers the experience needed.

On Tuesday morning the Barbehenns informed the company that unless the wages be increased, they would quit work. Several members of the company refused the pay increase and the Barbehenns retired from the gas house.

The new employes are Charles Haar and Edward Carter.

Edward Barbehenn has accepted position with the Martinsburg, W. Va., Gas Company, of which his brother, George, is superintendent.

THE HAPPIEST DAYS

"There are the happiest days of your years,"
Said an orator gray.
And I though for young graduates, grim that appears.
What a sad thing to say!

Done the delight of youth's laughter and song!
Nothing further to gain!
Only burdens to bear as they journey along!
All the rest of life, vain!

The happiest days haven't passed, I would shout.
There are new joys to know.
That the future holds gladness for you never doubt
As older you'll grow.

There are countless delights to be yours down the years
Time alone can unfold.
Notwithstanding the cares and the heartaches and tears,
It's worth while to grow old.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

ON INTERFERING

Let the other fellow build his own house in his own way, and let him think as he pleases, regardless of the consequences. It's his privilege and right so long as he does not interfere with others in doing so. It's a mistake to tell others how to order their lives, what to say, what to do, and where to go.

Live and let live has a very broad meaning. We are similarly created, but it's our own life and personality that make us different from others and others from us. If we all thought an' acted alike this would be a dull world in which to live. We want our own thoughts respected, and so we should allow others to abide by their own conclusions.

Trouble starts the moement that we begin to tell others how to order their lives. Tastes vary. Ideas vary. All minds work differently. The Creator meant that this should be the plan. Then there is a enlightenment among all. We learn from the ideas and actions of others, and they learn from us. If the nations of the world were co-operative and respected the rights of others, there would be no wars or misunderstandings that couldn't be worked out happily.

One of the wisest of all Americans was George Washington. He advised his countryymen to stay out of all foreign entanglements. That would have been wise advice for all nations. It sounds like sense today. It is natural for people to want to help others in trouble, and how commendable to do so, but when one person, a group of persons, or nations interfere for selfish purposes, trouble is the result.

The sincere listener is an intelligent person. You rarely witness such a person interfering with others. He may have ideas — even the right ones to settle a dispute — but such a one prefers to remain silent and not become involved in something that is none of his business. A friend of mine once interfered in a fight between two persons and it ended by both giving him a beating!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Tie to an Interest"

End Of Embargo On Trade With China And Chinese Seat On UN May Be Price For Korean Truce

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first, great, immediate benefit to the United States from a Korean truce will be an end to the killing of Americans there so long as the truce lasts, which may be a long time.

But when the long-range effect of a truce is examined realistically, the outlook can be very gloomy. In the long run the truce may cost the United States more than if the fighting had continued.

This is an outlook upon which the Eisenhower administration is fully informed. Apparently President Eisenhower felt there were only two choices in Korea:

1. Keep on fighting, with the killing continuing indefinitely, and in the end perhaps wage an all-out offensive which might bring in Russia and start World War III.

But even if continued fighting did not lead to a world war, it would be trading American lives for Chinese lives, and lives are something of which the Chinese Communist regime has a greater and more expendable supply than the United States.

2. Agree to an armistice, an end to the slaughter for now anyway, and hope that somehow the results might turn out well, or at least better than the gloomy picture given in this story.

This question has been discussed inside the Eisenhower administration:

Do the Chinese really want peace now?

Among those who have been to Korea and who also know the Chinese and their problems, this is a viewpoint that has been expressed:

The Chinese do want a truce. The Chinese Communists already have obtained the most they could expect from their fighting in Korea at this time: they have increased their prestige in Asia and the world by stopping the United Nations forces.

But the Chinese economy has been badly damaged by the efforts the Communists had to make to fight the war; they are dependent upon Russia for 70 per cent of their supplies; their five-year plan for China, announced when they took over five years ago, has been badly set back by the drain of the war.

All those are good reason why they should now want a truce, but there are others: benefits the Chinese can visualize for themselves as a result of a truce now.

Undoubtedly one of the prices the Chinese will try to exact, and probably will obtain even though the United States may not like it, is an end to the embargo on trade with China; another is a seat on the United Nations Security Council.

HOUSE CHANGES FOUR BILLS ON PENAL SHAKEUP

HARRISBURG (AP) — Legislation revamping Pennsylvania's prison setup in line with the Devers report today awaited Senate clearance of House revision before going to the governor.

The House unanimously passed the batch of 10 bills without a word of debate last night. Chief among the provisions is one placing prison administration in the Justice Department instead of the Welfare Department.

Minor correctional amendments were made in the House on four of the bills, forcing them to be sent back to the Senate for its formal agreement. The other six went directly to the desk of Gov. John S. Fine.

The legislation followed recommendations of Fine's Special Prison Investigating Committee, headed by retired Army Gen. Jacob L. Devers. Fine appointed the group after January riots at Western State Penitentiary, Pittsburgh, and its Rockview Branch, near Bellefonte.

Lacked Leadership

In its report, the committee cited the Welfare Department for "lack of power, lack of planning and lack of dynamic, progressive leadership."

Only the Morganza School in Washington County would remain under the Welfare Department.

Under the legislation, two classification centers would be set up—one in the East and one in the West—to which all convicted persons would be sent for assignment to a particular prison.

The Graterford Branch of Eastern State Penitentiary in Montgomery County and Rockview would become separate institutions with wardens of their own.

The Pennsylvania Institution for Defective Delinquests at Huntingdon would be converted into a regular penitentiary with maximum, medium and minimum security quarters.

Another bill passed by the House last night would permit a judge to impose a death sentence on a life term prisoner convicted of assault on another prisoner or a guard.

The measure, introduced by Rep. Edwin W. Tompkins (R-Cameron), was sponsored by the State Justice Department although it was not a Devers committee recommendation. The vote of 134-43 sent it to the Senate.

Brooklyn Shuts Out Cubs; Much Improved Dodger Work On Mound Gives Firmer Lead

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

After associating with the likes of Robin Roberts, Warren Spahn & Co., Charlie has come home to Brooklyn and with a wave of the hand—the one he used to wag frantically at the bullpen—he's suddenly converted a staff of throwers into a reasonably dangerous assortment of pitchers.

Dressen still has to be the master of the quick change, such as last night when Russ Meyer suddenly blew up in the ninth after shutting out Chicago on three hits for the first eight innings. But on the whole he has been getting good pitching—good enough that it's going to be harder and harder to budge the Brooks from their first-place spot.

Pirates, Cards Split

Meyer and Jim Hughes combined to pitch the second Dodger shutout in seven games, a five-hit 3-0 effort against the Cubs that stretched the Brooklyn lead over the idle Milwaukee Braves to 3½ games.

The only other action yesterday was in Pittsburgh, where the Pirates preserved their lead in a suspended Sunday game to beat the St. Louis Cardinals 6-4 and then bowed in a regularly scheduled contest 9-4 as Steve Bilko broke a batting slump with two home runs and a pair of singles.

Meyer and Hughes were lucky to get out of the ninth inning without being scored upon since the first four Cub batters reached first base.

4 Reached First, No Score

Eddie Miksis started it with a double. Dee Fondy walked. Ralph Kiner singled and Randy Jackson's sinking liner fell in front of right fielder Don Thompson. By now there were two men out.

Miksis's double was legitimate. So was Fondy's walk. But Kiner's blow, a screaming knee-high drive toward center field, struck Miksis on the leg. The baserunner was out automatically, the ball was dead and the rules credit Kiner with a single.

With Fondy on second and Kiner on first Dressen switched from Meyer to Hughes. Jackson looped one over the infield that fell in short right for an apparent hit but Kiner held too long at first and was forced at second by Thompson's throw. Thus two were out even though the first four batters had reached first base.

Long Blow Fails

The Cubs made one last attempt to break the shutout as Joe Garagiola caught Hughes' first pitch and rifled it over the right field screen—foul by less than 10 feet. Then he hit to Gil Hodges at first base to end the game.

The victory was the sixth in seven games for Brooklyn since the All-Star break.

For the Pirates, Paul Lapalme picked up where he left off Sunday and pitched four more scoreless innings to win his fourth game. The Cards had been at bat in the sixth with one out when the Sunday curfew forced a halt.

Everybody Busy Today

In the regular game Pittsburgh jumped off ahead with four runs in the first inning against Stu Miller but the Cards soon caught up. Bilko homered with the bases empty in the fourth and with Manager Eddie Stanky aboard in the ninth. Peanuts Lowrey drove in two runs with a triple in the sixth inning. Cliff Chambers, second of four St. Louis pitchers, received credit for his first victory of the season.

Everybody gets back into the act today and tonight with a day game and three night contests in the American League and a day game, a twilight-night double-header and two single night games in the National League.

The Moose softball team assured itself of at least a tie for first place in the Softball League race by handing the Eagles a 10-6 setback in the opening game of Monday's twin bill.

A bases-loaded homerun by Bud Knox to right centerfield in the top half of the fifth inning broke the game wide open for the ultimate winners. Prior to that the Moose held a scant 3-2 margin. Yarmark led the Eagles' assault with three singles.

In the second contest the Glenn L. Bream garagemen took over undisputed possession of second place by nipping the Texas Lunch 6-2, the lunchmen dropping into a tie with the Lentz Legion for fourth place.

Four runs in the second inning, a result of some efficient bunting on the part of the garagemen, provided the margin of victory. George Fair hurled one of his best games and proved particularly efficient with runners on the paths. Gaylord Fissel, second baseman for the lunchmen, suffered a slight sprain of his right ankle while sliding into third base.

Garden State Race May Top $250,000

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP)—A field of two-year-olds will be running for the richest prize in horse racing history in the mile and a sixteenth Garden State at Garden State Park next Oct. 31. Officials of the track announced yesterday the gross value of the race will be at least $239,395 and may top the $250,000 mark.

If Garden States reaches the quarter million dollar mark, it will top by nearly $45,000 the previous richest race—the 1951 Santa Anita Maturity which had a gross value of $205,700.

To date, 238 juveniles have been nominated for the race, but only a dozen or so are expected to be in the starting gate at post time.

Daisies Will Provide Starlets Strong Opposition For Girls' Game Wednesday At 8:45

Champions of the Philadelphia Suburban Girls Softball League for the last three years, the Folcroft, Pa., Daisies will furnish the opposition for the strong Greenwich Starlets of Philadelphia in the girls' game to be staged Wednesday evening at 8:45 o'clock on the softball field at the Recreation Park.

President Johnny Grinder, president of the Softball League which is sponsoring the game, said today: "Following the girls' tournament here last year many fans urged our league to bring back more girls' teams and we scheduled the Starlets and Daisies as two of the finest teams available. The league is going to considerable expense in bringing the teams here and we are hoping for a large turnout of fans. If sufficient support is forthcoming, we may be able to bring in other outstanding softball attractions."

The Daisies have been strengthened this year by the addition of a pair of girls who played baseball here last year as members of the Philadelphia Fillies. They are Jean Razler, shortstop, and Betty Treichel, first baseman. Five members of the Starlets also played here a year ago as members of the Fillies.

Treichel and and Ruth Harmer, third baseman, have been the outstanding performers for the Daisies this season while Razler and Doris Lenahan, right fielder, have proven to be the batting stars. Ann Myers, who will hurl against the Starlets, is the team's leading pitcher.

The probable batting order for the Daisies will be: Rita Schultz, c; Kitty Nelson, cf; Myers, p; Razler, ss; Lenahan, rf; Harmer, 3b; Joan Mott, lf; Treichel, 1b, and Shorty Graham, 2b.

First line reserves include Ace McCann, p; Ida Keller and Betty Williams, infielders; Betty O'Brien and May Smith, outfielders.

The Daisies have met and conquered most of the outstanding girls teams of the Philadelphia area as well as several in New Jersey.

Both teams rate highly in softball circles and are ranked as faster and all-around more capable performers than those who took part in the state amateur tournament here last year.

A win for the Starlets would mean much to them in their bid for participation in the world series for girls' teams to be held late this summer in Toronto, Canada.

KUENN, HADDIX MAY BE PICKED AS TOP ROOKIES

NEW YORK (AP)—Who are the top rookies in the major leagues this season?

Although the 1953 campaign still has more than two months to go, indications are that the annual awards will go to shortstop Harvey uenn of the Detroit Tigers in the American League and pitcher Harvey Haddix of the St. Louis Cardinals in the National.

uenn, the bonus baby the Tigers plucked fresh from the University of Wisconsin campus, is batting a solid .311, seventh highest in the junior circuit. He also leads the league in hits with 118. In the field, Harvey's been more than adequate, making only 12 errors in 88 games.

Haddix, a 27-year-old southpaw, has won 11 games and dropped only three, pitching eight complete games, two of them shutouts. He and the veteran Gerry Staley have been the only dependables on the Cardinals' sagging mound corps.

HUGE BETTING MYSTERY STIRS BRITISH BRASS

READING, England (AP) — The blue-blooded gentry who boss Britain's racetracks start sleuthing today in this country's biggest betting mystery in more than a century.

Three stewards of the Jockey Club—which numbers five dukes, seven earls and Prime Minister Winston Churchill among its exclusive membership—joined Scotland Yard detectives in seeking the answers to these questions:

Was it really Francasal, never noted as a speed demon, that won the two o'clock race at Bath last Thursday?

Francasal's Twin

Or was it Santa Amaro, a horse with a much more convincing record who happens to look like Francasal's twin?

Who was behind the flood of bets on Francasal that engulfed Britain's legal bookmakers with more than a million dollars in wagers?

And who snipped telephone wires linking the Bath race track with bookie offices all over Britain, so that Francasal went off at a tempting 10-1?

The bookmakers were most anxious to determine the answer to the last question, for they could have easily layed off their bets on Francasal at the track if the lines had been operating normally. This would have sent the odds on Francasal tumbling, of course.

The Scotland Yard men already have interviewed Francasal and Santa Amaro, but reportedly had some trouble deciding which was which. Both are 2-year-old bay colts with no distinguishing marks.

Eastern League

The Williamsport Athletics, long the tail-enders of the Eastern League, are snuffing the heady air of seventh place today.

The Athletics dumped Wilkes-Barre into the cellar last night by beating the Barons, 8-5, behind the 9-hit pitching of Ozzie Van Brabant. Williamsport had been in last place since June 2.

In other games, the Binghamton Triplets kept the pressure on league-leading Reading by beating the Schenectady Blue Jays, 5-2, while the Indians were shading the Scranton Miners, 7-6. The Albany Senators blanked the Elmira Pioneers for a 3-0 victory at home.

Y.S. AWARDED FORFEIT

York Springs was awarded a forfeit from New Kingston in its scheduled Bi-County Baseball League game Monday evening. Other games resulted as follows: Mt. Pleasant 5, Blue Raiders 4; Lisburn 6, Plainfield 3; White Hill 6, Centerville 0.

MONTE IRVIN IS 2ND IN NATIONAL BATTING RACE

NEW YORK (AP) — Monte Irvin may be the first New York Giants hitter to win the National League batting championship since Bill Terry's .401 won the crown in 1931.

Irvin, climbing steadily the past few weeks, now is right on the heels of pace-setting Red Schoendienst of the St. Louis Cardinals. Schoendienst, who has topped the league since the end of May, is batting .334, while Irvin's average is .331.

Kell Pulls Ahead

In the American League batting derby George Kell of the Boston Red Sox again has pulled away from teammate Billy Goodman. Kell, tied with Goodman for the lead last week, boosted his average to .333, while Goodman slipped back into the runnerup spot with .326. Both players are former batting champions.

Orestes (Minnie) Minoso of the Chicago White Sox remains third with .322.

Ted Kluszewski of the Redlegs and Eddie Mathews of the Braves are tied for home run honors in the National League with 28 apiece and Roy Campanella of the Dodgers has the most runs batted in, 82.

In the American League Cleveland's Al Rosen is tops in both departments with 23 homers and 77 RBI's.

Hagerstown Meet To Open On August 18

HAGERSTOWN, Md. — The announcement that Henry J. Carroll will again serve as racing secretary at the Hagerstown Fair Association's annual 10-day meet has met with the approval of horsemen planning to bring their horses to this city.

The 1953 Hagerstown meet will open on August 18 at the picturesque Hub City Fairgrounds and will run through August 29, with no racing on Sundays or Mondays.

For the past two Hagerstown meetings, Carroll has held the position of racing secretary and his record over that period has been very commendable.

Eight races will be held daily, with the post time for the first race each day set for 2 o'clock.

TO FIGHT AUG. 1

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Interim featherweight champion Percy Bassett will battle another Philadelphan, lightweight Bolden Arbams, in a nationally televised ((ABC) 10 round match here Aug. 1, Bassess is the recognized champion while former crownholder, Sandy Sadler is in the army

PETERSON SOLD

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Southpaw relief specialist Kent Peterson has been sold outright by the Philadelphia Phillies to their Baltimore farm club in the International League. Peterson, 27, has an 0-1 record in 24 innings of pitching this season.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $5,253,177,664 money bill, a compromise between different versions passed earlier by the Senate and House, was okayed by both branches yesterday and sent to the White House. It carries funds to operate, during the fiscal year which started July 1, the Atomic Energy Commission, the Tennessee Valley Authority and selective service.

"Jester" Joe Engle, Mount's Star Athlete Of 40 Years Ago, Is Featured In 1953 Register

The feature story in the 1953 edition of the Baseball Register, published by the Sporting News, is a full length treatment of "Jester" Joe Engel, the P. T. Barnum of the Bushes and longtime chief of the Chattanooga club of the Southern Baseball Association.

Engel, one of the games master-showman who long ago blazed the trail for the McPhails and Veecks, for circuses and sprinting races, is now approaching his sixtieth birthday. But the harum-scarum owner made his initial baseball splash on Echo Field at Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, Md., back around 1909-1910.

Engle first came to the Mount in the old days of the prep school and was for a while a "special" student, not quite ready for college and a bit too mature for the prep. In those days eligibility rules were extremely elastic and Joe found himself pounding books with the minims in the high school department, but throwing curves for the college varsity.

Won Many Trophies

A clown, even in his college days, Engel was also a first class athlete, excelling in basketball as well as on the diamond. He was a good man on the cinderpath also picking up a bagful of trophies in all events from the 100 yard dash through the 880. Old time Mountaineers think Joe was the best pivotman on the best cage team the Mountaineers ever had, and the top pitcher on the Blue and White's finest baseball team. And those were days when the Mountaineers were really stacked with material: Danny Costello, who later played with the Pirates, Johnny Chapman, who made the Phillies, not to mention a flock of collegians who turned down big league opportunities to become priests.

Signed With Senators

Engel, whose first love was baseball, attracted the attention of the major league ivory hunters when he pitched a perfect game against Susquehanna College, whiffing 19 batters, and then threw three shutouts in a row, the last against a strong professional team from Frederick, Md., to snap a 29-game Frederick winning streak. As a result Joe never received his sheepskin from Mount St. Mary's because he signed on the dotted line for Clark Griffith's Washington Senators while he was still in his sophomore year.

Joe had only a "so-so" career as a major league hurler, always posting a good record but never an outstanding one. From this time, however, dates his close association with Griffith. Chattanooga is Washington's top farm, and Engel has probably sent the "old fox" more material than anyone else in the organization.

The Register article recounts most of Engel's zany antics in baseball promotion, his elephant hunts in the lookout baseball park, the beauty pageants, the trade of a shortstop for a turkey, the day he avenged General Custer by scalping one of his Indian players, and the time he sent in a girl pitcher to strike out Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig.

Joe Found Babe Ruth

Joe likes to take credit also for the discovery of Babe Ruth, insisting that he and Jack Dunn first found the Sultan of Swat playing in the St. Mary's Industrial School Band at Mount St. Mary's commencement. After the band had retired Ruth pitched for the Industrial School team against the Mountaineers. Joe brought him to the attention of Dunne and the rest is history. Only trouble here is that the Industrial School Band never was on the Emmitsburg campus in those days, and the Mountaineers never played their baseball team.

But it's a good story. And the Baseball Register story is also a good one. Why not? Engel is baseball's number one screwball, the Baron of Baloney and Ballyhoo, the Punjab of Promotion. And incidentally a pretty shrewd customer.

Weather Won't Stop Gavilan Fight Aug. 10

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—An out-door 10 round non-title bout between welterweight champion Kid Gavilan and middleweight Joe Giardello scheduled Aug. 10 will be fought under canvas if it rains.

Promoter Herman Taylor said a canopy is being erected over the ring in Connie Mack Stadium to protect newsmen as well as the fighters. Spectators will be in the shelter of the grandstand as no field seats will be set up.

Russo Will Drive At Williams Grove

WILLIAMS GROVE, Pa. — Anxious to repeat his victory of a year ago, Paul Russo, of Hammond, Ind., hard-riding veteran of the Indianapolis Classic, turned in his entry today to Roy Richwine for the fifth annual "All-Indianapolis" race of national championship cars and drivers to be staged on the oval on Sunday, July 26.

One of the oldest contenders at Indianapolis from the standpoint of the number of times he has competed and miles covered in the "500," Russo chalked up his eighth ride "on the bricks" this year.

The veteran of big car, midget and championship car racing is only one of a number of Indianapolis stars expected to file entries for this race, attracted by the large guaranteed purse of $7,500 offered by Richwine, against 40 per cent of the gate. The guaranteed purse alone will pay the stars about $300 per mile for their efforts in the big, gruelling 50-lap feature race.

Harvey G. and Mildred Mae Bollinger, New Oxford, sold to Clarence M. and Helen M. Fuss, Oxford Twp., for $900, a lot in New Oxford.

BACKING AWAY FROM BOOST IN U. S. DEBT LIMIT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration leaders appeared to be backing away today from any immediate increase in the federal debt limit and Sen. Byrd (D-Va) said this may force President Eisenhower to make sharp spending cuts.

Byrd, who has been consulting with administration fiscal leaders, said in an interview he has made it clear to them he would oppose any effort in this session of Congress to raise the present 275 billion dollar debt ceiling.

"If the debt limit isn't raised, the administration soon will be compelled to cut spending below the level that Congress has approved," Byrd said. "The President has power to restrict expenditures on a quarterly basis and if the limit is reached, it will have to be done."

The national debt now stands only 2,638,000,000 below the statutory limit, but Byrd said he thinks the Treasury probably will be able to get by until January without reaching or raising the ceiling.

However, he said that unless the President takes some drastic action to cut expenditures, they will reach 74 billion dollars in the current fiscal year and produce the 10 billion dollar deficit Byrd already has forecast.

News Briefs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Refugees streaming out of Russia and her satellites are providing the United States Air Force with some of its best information where and how to set about retaliatory bombing if the U.S.S.R. should start war.

This information goes into voluminous records already amassed on target systems ofthe Soviet Union. It is in addition to equally important technical data on Russia's air fleet which becomes available through defection of such former Red military personnel as the two Red Polish fliers who escaped on recent occasions with jet fighters and have since traveled to the United States.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican congressional leaders reported there was no talk of boosting the federal debt limit when they discussed with President Eisenhower Monday a program of "must" legislation for the remainder of the congressional session.

The administration plainly is approaching a financial crossroads, however, and Eisenhower has said a rise in the debt ceiling may be necessary.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican congressional leaders told President Eisenhower Monday they are still aiming at adjournment by Aug. 1 but will hold Congress overtime if necessary to dispose of "must" legislation.

Sen. Knowland of California, acting Senate GOP floor leader, and House Speaker Martin (R-Mass) outlined the situation to reporters after their regular Monday conference with the President.

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP) — The president of Blue Ridge Lines said Monday talk that Greyhound or some other bus company "is about to purchase Blue Ridge has been going on for 100 years, but "it's still just in the talking stage."

R. Paul Smith, asked to comment on the report, said negotiations by one company or another have been on and off for that long.

Chick Donaldson, 212-pound center of the West Virginia football team, couldn't make his high school squad. He weighed only 118 pounds then.

SUMMER CARE OF RASPBERRIES

Yields and berry quality are considerably influenced by berries. Mulching, pinching back new canes, rogueing out diseased and borer-fested canes, and pruning soon after fruit is harvested play important roles in making the plantation profitable And the same factors contribute to lenghtening the plantation's life.

Tests conducted at the Ohio Experiment station in recent years show, for example, that permanent summer mulching may increase red raspberry yields as much as 25 percent over unmulched test plots. Similar benefits are indicated from mulching other varieties of raspberries as well as blackberries and dewberries.

Hay, straw, grass clippings, immature weeds and other waste vegetation may be used between the rows. In most cases growers find chopped hay or straw or ground corncobs most effective for mulching atound the plants in the rows where coarser materials would be difficult to place. Sawdust may be used in the row if additional feedings of nitrogen are made to offset the soil loss of this element through the decomposition of the sawdust. Of course, the mulch should be heavy enough to carpet the ground liberally to choke out weeds and to conserve soil moisture.

Pinching back operations aim to promote the formation of lower and bushier plants with numerous laterals. Such growth obviously increases the number of potential berries the next year. The new canes should be pinched back when they are 18 to 24 inches tall. This may be done with pruning shears or a sharp knife. Each should be cut back to about 15 to 18 inches.

One "don't" must be stressed. Don't pinch back canes of red raspberries. Experience indicates that promotion of laterals on red varities results in heavy winter-killing and an actual decrease in fruit.

Soon after raspberries are harvested the old or bearing canes should be cut off at the crown, removed and burned at once. This operation aims at four important benefits: 1) The old canes are spent and useless and their removal throws all the plant's strength into the new canes on which the next year's fruit will be borne; (2) Virus diseases, especially mosaic, is greatly reduced by cutting out and promptly burning the old canes; (3) Such insects as the red-necked borer and other borers common to bramble fruits are destroyed in the old canes and their life cycle interrupted; (4) The post-harvest spray recommended for all bramble fruits is more effectively and less expensively applied.

All bramble fruit growers should practice rogueing whenever diseased or bore-infested canes are seen. This operation is the most direct way to healthful, long-bearning bramble plantations.

While summer mulching should be done in the spring, benefits will be numerous in plant vigor if mulches are applied even this late. They will eliminate the labor of later cultivation to control weeds and grass besides conserving soil moisture through late summer and fall.

The editor invites all bramble fruit questions.

GROWING ORIENTAL POPPIES

Beautiful, easy and inexpensive to start, extremely hardly, lasts and thrives many, many years, almost entirely free from insects and diseases—this is a thumbnail description of the Oriental poppy. Flower growers who have never added this attractive perennial to their list should consider it at once because the Oriental poppy should be planted in August.

In late summer, usually in August, this plant enters a period of rest. The foliage may so completely disappear that growers with experience who plan to lift and divide crowding old clumps mark the sites earlier in order to locate the roots. It is during this dormant interim that new roots purchases from a nursery may be planted or old beds renovated and replanted. Too, this period offers an opportunity to take up extra valuable plants and propagate several additional plants by use of root cuttings. All these practices are described in a simple leaflet which the editor will gladly furnish readers who send him a stamped, addressed envelope with their request.

Like all other food and ornamental plants that grow from bulbs, corms, tubers or matted roots, Oriental poppies demand a deeply mellow loam in all-day sunshine. Their roots delve far and deep for moisture and nourishment. Disappointment will result if this perennial is planted in shallow or hard soils. Too, the site should be entirely free from competition of shade tree roots.

Pulverized, weathered cattle manure gathered from a summer pasture after it is thoroughly dry is an excellent form of plant food and organic matter to work through the lower or rooting stratum of soil.

Nursery roots should not be covered deeply but the soil should be firmed around them carefully and the mass watered liberally to settle the soil. After leaves appear moisture requirements should be supplied whenever the soil tends toward dryness.

Like peonies, Oriental poppies should be left alone until they show by declining vigor that the roots are crowding. Then they should be lifted in August, divided, and replanted in a manner similar to the planting of new roots. Usually after moving numerous volunteer plants appear in the old bed. These may be carefully moved any time in late summer

Tests indicate that here is another favorite flower that benefits from mulching. Peat moss, finely shredded corn stalks, chopped straw or hay, grass clippings, or ground corncobs may be used. The mulch should be applied in the spring to a depth that prevents weed and grass growth and keeps the ground uniformly moist. The editor believes ground uniformly moist. The editor believes ground corncobs find one of their most beneficial mulching roles with this plant.

Winter mulching should not be done until after the ground is well frozen in early December. Then a light, airy mulch, such as coarse hay or straw should be applied to prevent alternate freezing thawing. In fact the purpose of winter mulching is to keep the ground frozen.

There are dozens of beautiful types and colors of Oriental poppy from which to choose. Beginners will not regret the addition of this fine perennial to their garden list.

A rice ring will take on a touch of color if you arrange chopped green pepper and canned pimiento in the bottom of the buttered mold before packing with rice.

VOTE HEARING FOR MATTHEWS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House un-American Activities Committee voted Monday to grant hearing to J. B. Matthews, ousted from a Senate committee job, because of an article he wrote critizing part of the clergy. Matthews had asked to be heard.

Chairman Velde (R-Ill) told newsmen no decision was made as to when Matthews will be called.

In a formal statement, Velde reported that Matthews will be told his testimony will be limited to the presentation of facts relating to his assertion that "the largest single group supporting the Communist apparatus in the United States is composed of protestant clergymen."

That article set off a public furor.

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), chairman of the Senate Investigations Subcommittee, called Matthews "a star spangled American" and at first refused to accept his resignation as executive director of the subcommittee staff.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Styles H. Bridges (R-NH) was struck by a car Monday and taken to Emergency Hospital for X-ray examination. Hospital officials said the senator did hot appear to have been seriously injured.

Bridges, temporary president of the Senate and chairman of the Appropriations Committee, was stepping from his car at a mid-town intersection when he was hit by a passing auto, hospital officials said.

"Little Blowhard," The Pet Air Conditioner, Has Joined Human Race; He's Unpredictable

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"Little Blowhard," the pet in our family, is four years old and at last is beginning to talk.

"Clankety clank" were his first words, and how he says them over and over and over. We would just as soon his vocabulary gets no larger, and actually would prefer for him to forget what he has already learned.

Baby talk is bad enough in human infants. In mechanical babies it is sometimes more than a fellow feels able to put up with.

Pamper Mechanical Baby

And that's what "Little Blowhard" is—a mechanical baby. He is only our air conditioning machine. But, as pampered cats and dogs sometimes come to believe they are human beings, so it is with "Little Blowhard."

No one has bothered to tell him he isn't a person, and certainly he acts more and more like a person as he gets older. One of the big differences between machines and pople is that you are supposed to be able to predict better what machines will do.

Tested by this standard, "Little Blowhard" has moved over and joined the human race. Nobody can tell for sure what he will do next. He has a personality all of his own—stubborn and prideful—and like most children he responds to praise more quickly than to punishment.

Hot Weather Fighter

For eight months of the year "Little Blowhard" dozes lazily and uselessly in his window corner, careless of mankind. He is strictly a hot weather fighter.

In June he begins to huff and puff, warming up for his battle against the summer heat. By July his metal is in fine fettle, and he is the king of what we call our "keep cool room."

"Blow, Little Blowhard," says my wife, Frances, and he begins to purr softly.

Silly To Be Jealous

"Oh, come now, you can do better than that," Frances coaxes. And so, put upon his mettle, "Little Blowhard" blows and blows, until we have a semi-Arctic gale in the room.

It is silly, I suppose, for a man to be jealous of a machine. But "Little Blowhard" will do anything for my wife, absolutely nothing for me. If I turn him off, he keeps blowing cold air. If I turn him on, he sulks in silence, sneering up at me through his little brown ventilator as if to say, "look at who wants to be air conditioned now! You certainly meet all kinds in this type of work."

Naturally, this burns me up. But what is even more galling than his disdain for me is the way he shows off for neighbors. All one has to do is pat him on his little brown head and say, "well, well, how's 'Little Blowhard' today?"—and the vain little smart alec will blow out a fuse trying to create a cold wave.

Blew Two Fuses

He blew out two fuses that way in one evening last week, bragging to neighbors. The next day he wouldn't even take a deep breath for me. I got so mad I hauled off and kicked him, and Frances came in and caught me.

"You do that just one more time, Rover," she said, "and you may force me to decide between keeping you or 'Little Blowhard.' If you do, you know what the choice will be—in this weather."

The other evening Frances and I sat in "the keep cool room" and talked about the possibility of retiring to Florida in the far, far future. I asked her whether, when the time came, she would want to take "Little Blowhard" along.

One Of The Family

"I will if he behaves himself," she said loudly. "My, isn't it getting a bit warm in here?"

The soft mechanical purring sound in the corner immediately changed to a frantic, "clankety clank! clankety clank! clankety clank!"

A few minutes later I looked over at "Little Blowhard" and saw an icicle forming on his ventilator. Then the lights went out. The hard-working little rascal had blown another fuse trying to show what a good boy he was.

I guess, wherever we go, we'll have to take "Little Blowhard" along. He's become one of the family.

Miss Elaine Broderick, 18, as she appeared in District Court, Milwaukee, Wis., on disorderly conduct charge, with initials branded on her arms. No torture victim, she told the court initials burned in with match are latest thing if you want to be real crazy. The judge who digs very little bop, ordered her held for mental tests.

ROUGH GOING IS AHEAD FOR "MUST" BILLS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite a promise of Democratic cooperation, some major proposals on a schedule of administration "must" bills appeared certain today to face rough going in Congress.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, said in an interview that Senate Democrats "will do everything we can to see that the President's 'must' legislation receives consideration in this session."

But it was evident that Johnson shared with some of his colleagues a belief that President Eisenhower will be extraordinarily lucky to get approval of postal rate increases or admission of 240,000 European refugees in time for an Aug. 1—or even an early fall—adjournment.

10 Major Bills Remain

Sen. Knowland of California, acting Republican leader, said Congress will stay around after the adjournment target of Aug. 1 if necessary to get "must" bills through. But he and other Republican leaders seemingly have no desire to go through any lengthy wrangle over legislation at this stage.

Ten major appropriations bills still must be cleared before Congress can adjourn, and that alone will take a good bit of time in the 11 working days until Aug. 1.

The proposed increase in postal rates, added to the administration list after a conference of GOP leaders with Eisenhower yesterday, seems likely to cause lengthy bickering if pressed. Knowland has said it will be considered by the Senate only if the House approves it first. House committee hearings are likely to continue through this week.

Immigration Issue

Sen. McCarran (D-Nev) has said he and others will talk for a long time against a bill to permit the special immigration of 220,000 European refugees and others in the next three years.

This measure already has been compromised from the 240,000 admissions in two years requested by Eisenhower, but McCarran remains unsatisfied. The bill's sponsors may have to compromise some more. But even then they won't have any assurance that opponents will let the bill pass the Senate. The fate of a similar measure in the House is extremely doubtful.

A request for presidential authority to send surplus foods to foreign countries in emergencies also is in for a thorough overhauling. Democrats are insisting that the authority be limited as to extent and time, with strict provisions against dumping.

Believe Cease-Fire Near But Truce Signing Time Is In Doubt; Preparations Go On

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN

PANMUNJOM (AP)—New rumblings of opposition came from South Korea today as Allied and Communist staff and liaison officers put finishing touches on a Korean armistice.

All signs pointed to a cease-fire soon—possibly within the week—but there was no indication just when the historic signing would come.

One group of staff officers and the liaison officers recessed without scheduling further meetings. A second team of staff officers reportedly revising the truce line across Korea worked on into the night.

Hold Out For Unification

But meanwhile, South Korea's Foreign Minister Pyun Yung Tai told newsmen his government might "change its attitude" toward obstructing a truce unless it gets prompt assurances from Washington that Korea will be unified.

He said South Korea also wants guarantees from the United States on how to stop possible new Red aggression.

At the truce site, things continued to move at a feverish pace, two days after the Communist agreement to go ahead with final preparations for signing an armistice.

Officers Rush About

Marine Col. James C. Murray, who heads the U. N. staff officer team working on the truce line, had to rush from the staff officer meeting today to attend the liaison meeting as chief Allied liaison officer.

The Allied and Communist liaison officers met 32 minutes and recessed without setting another meeting time. Liaison officers usually exchange communications for higher officers and arrange meetings of the full truce delegations.

Rush Building Work

After the liaison session, Col. Murray rushed back to the staff meeting.

At the same time, the other staff group, believed mapping the route to be used by neutral nations inspection and observer teams to and from the five ports of entry on each side, announced they had recessed with no further meeting scheduled.

Outside, a swarm of North Korean and Chinese workmen hurried to complete a building where the truce will be signed. They worked all through the night under floodlights put up for them by American soldiers.

7 SENTENCED AS MUTINOUS

FORT DIX, N. J. (AP) — Seven Army privates charge with disobeying an order to fall in for drill have been convicted on mutiny. Six of them were sentenced to 20 years in prison, the seventh to 15.

The Army announced Saturday that the mutiny had taken place June 11. Capt. Harry H. Lapham, public information officer, said the seven were in a special unit made up of violators of military rules.

The seven GIs were sentenced to dishonorable discharges and forfeiture of all pay and allowances in addition to the prison terms in a general court martial July 9, Lapham said. He would not say why the news of the alleged mutiny had been held up until Saturday.

Lapham said the seven privates refused to fall in for close order drill after being ordered to do so by a sergeant. He said they then refused when a commissioned officer repeated the order and explained the gravity of the offense to each man.

Lapham said the court martial found that the action of the seven GIs was a "concerted one by the group and this made them liable to trial under Article 94 of the Uniform Code of Military Justice, dealing with mutiny or sedition."

The Lewis and Clark expedition including 31 men in the official party which went from the Mississippi to the Pacific Coast from May, 1804, to September, 1806, cost only $2,500 says the National Geographic Society.

U. S. FOOD OFFER TO E. GERMANY IS COUNTERED BY RUSS MOVE

BERLIN (AP)—Soviet Russia countered America's food offer to East Germany today with the promise of 57½ million dollars in extra victuals and cotton for the hungry satellite—but it was a trade-not-aid proposition payable in manufactured goods.

The Russian agreement, an extension of a previous East German-Soviet trade deal, was made public just one day after President Eisenhower renewed a 10-day old U. S. offer to send 15 million dollars worth of American food to Germany's Soviet zone with no strings attached.

The East German Communist government and Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov had angrily rejected the American offer as a "propaganda maneuver" and said the East Germans didn't need food relief.

Admitted Previous Calls

The Communists announced the stepped-up Russian shipments would include 7,000 more tons of cotton and 82,000 more tons of foodstuffs—27,000 tons of butter, 8,500 tons of fats, 10,000 tons of vegetable oil, 15,000 tons of seed oils, 20,000 tons of meat and 1,500 tons of cheese.

Under the East German government's trade treaty with Moscow, announced in April, grain was the only food item Russia supplied the hungry satellite. That was before the June 17 East Berlin riots followed by slowdowns in East German industry as workers demanded more food and better working conditions.

Today's announcement of the Russian food offer also admitted the East German government had been forced to call on Moscow for help "several times" to ease food shortages.

U. S. Offer Stands

The White House said last week that the American offer "still stands regardless of any Soviet rejection of that offer or any Soviet allegation that the people do not need food."

The United States went ahead shipping the food to Germany. Eisenhower wrote West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer that the U. S. offer "was motivated solely by humanitarian impulses and that the food is available if that government wishes to permit its entry into the Soviet zone of occupation."

Political Hassle Over State Grants To Universities May Threaten Legislature's Close

HARRISBURG (AP)—Republicans and Democrats grappled in a tense political fight in the Senate today on the size of state grants to universities.

Unless resolved before Thursday, the issue threatens plans to adjourn the Legislature finally this week.

Sen. John H. Dent, Democratic floor leader, said the GOP is pressing for grants less than listed in Gov. John S. Fine's budget "to create a surplus two years hence for political purposes."

The Republican viewpoint, expressed by Sen. Rowland B. Mahany, GOP floor leader, is that the universities are in line for 10 per cent over 1951 grants and that other items would suffer if they got more than that.

Mahany said the problem would be placed in the lap of the governor who last January called for 15 per cent across-the-board increases on maintenance grants to the University of Pennsylvania, University of Pittsburgh, Temple University and Lincoln University.

GOP Slashes Grant

Senate Republicans, however, cut back the increase to 10 per cent—and this the Democrats are opposing.

The fight flared on the Senate floor last night when Dent discovered that the 15 per cent budget increase was retained by Senate Republicans for 31 million dollars in state aid to other colleges and schools, including the Pennsylvania State College.

Although calendars in both House and Senate were jammed with appropriation bills, these other thorny issues confronted the lawmakers:

1. Fair employment practices. The Senate Judiciary General Committee called a morning meeting on a House-passed administration plan to ban discrimination in employment or union membership because of race, creed, color or national origin.

Approval Chances Lessen

The same committee killed a similar FEPC proposal in the 1951 Legislature. Chairman John M. Walker (R-Allegheny) said in advance of the session that chances of approval were lessened by the governor's attempt to bypass his committee which the executive says is "notoriously packed" against FEPC.

2. Truck weight limits. A House proposal to increase the weight limit of trucks with twin axles at the rear from 45,000 pounds to 60,000 pounds was up for action by the Senate Highways Committee.

The truck weight bill also will be the subject of a conference between Fine and a group of industrialists, headed by Ben Morreel, chairman of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp. Steel and oil industry representatives are supporting the measure.

Await Archbishop's Answer

3. Child Welfare. Administration leaders awaited "a clarifying statement" from the Most Rev. John F. O'Hara, archbishop of the Philadelphia Roman Catholic Diocese, on the church's opposition to a child welfare plan.

Rep. William A. Bolton (R-Montgomery) said the cleric's statement may provide the basis for amending the program to meet the objections.

A deluge of telegrams—largest on a single issue so far this session—hit the legislators registering the church's opposition to a bill to provide for child care programs on a county basis.

Meanwhile, the Senate passed and sent to the House legislation to add water bills and religious articles to the list of exemptions from the new one per cent sales tax when it goes into effect Sept. 1.

Seek Compresation Boost

In the House, the administration pushed for a floor vote by Thursday on a proposal to increase maximum weekly payments for unemployment compensation, workmen's compensation and occupational disease from 30 to $32.50.

On appropriations, Senate Democrats insisted that the GOP restore the grants to the four universities at the full budget figure.

That would give Penn $3,564,000 instead of $3,409,000; Pitt $2,692,000 instead of $2,635,000; Temple $2,264,000 instead of $2,075,000 and Lincoln $380,000 instead of $350,000.

Since these appropriations required a two-thirds majority in the 50-member upper branch, the 18 votes of the Democrats are enough to block them.

"Explain Slash"

..."If the budget is to be cut," Dent said, "take the floor and give reasons for the cut. We're not going to sit by and see a straight across-the-board cut without any semblance of reason."

In reply, Mahany described the Democrats as "a stubborn bloc" who will have exclusive responsibility for stopping the appropriations.

"If we give all the money to the colleges, there won't be enough to give state employes an increase in salary and for a lot of other things not in the budget."

He also said representatives of the universities involved have told him they are not "dissatisfied" with the present plan to limit the increased grants to 10 per cent.

But Dent rebutted that the governor said 118 million dollars in new revenue was needed to balance the commonwealth's $1,400,000,000 budget.

Have More Money

In passing the sales tax, estimated by the GOP to yield 125 millions, the administration has seven millions more than the governor asked, the Democratic leader said.

"Why cut the budget when you now have more money than is needed?" he asked.

In another development, the House Appropriations Committee unexpectedly approved a $500,000 grant for rehabilitation of alcoholics after the House GOP caucus previously turned down the appropriation.

No explanation was given for the committee's turnabout although the governor last week renewed his plea for such a program on "humanitarian" grounds.

BISHOP OXNAM DENIES HE EVER WAS OR IS RED

By HARRY SNYDER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam told the House un-American Activities Committee today it should "frankly admit its inaccuracies and misrepresentations" about him.

And he called on the committee, in a statement prepared for a hearing which he requested, to halt "the practice of releasing unverified and unevaluated material for which the committee accepts no responsibility."

"We can not beat down the Communist menace by bearing false witness against fellow Americans," "The Communists want a divided America, an America whose citizens are suspicious of each other, an America without trust, an America open to infiltration.

"I believe this committee will wish to end a practice that plays into Communist hands."

The committee, some of whose members have been critical of the bishop, announced in advance of the televised session that he would be permitted to read a 15-minute opening statement without interruption—an unusual waiver of its rules.

Voluntary Appearance

"I have requested opportunity to appear voluntarily . . . to secure redress for the damage done me by the release of information in the 'files' of this committee," Bishop Oxnam said. "I deeply appreciate the grant of this privilege.

"Such releases, made at various times for a period of nearly seven years, have contained material, much of which is irrelevant and immaterial, some of which is false and some of which is true, but all prepared in a way capable of creating the impression that I have been and am sympathetic to communism, and therefore subversive. . .

"I have been actively opposed to communism all my life. I have never been a member of the Communist party. My opposition to communism is a matter of public record in books, numerous articles, addresses and sermons. . ."

Asks Apology

The churchman also asked Rep. Donald L. Jackson (R-Calif) "to apologize on the floor of the House for his unprecedented and untrue statements made there concerning me."

If Jackson does so, Oxnam said, "I will be the first to shake hands with him and to call the incident closed."

The Californian, in a House speech last March 17, assailed the bishop as a man who "served God on Sunday and the Communist front for the balance of the week."

Jackson also made refererences to the committee's files on Oxnam and said they mirrored a "record of aid and comfort to the Communist front."

Oxnam said Jackson drew from the committee's files a conclusion that he held Communist sympathies.

"If a member of the committee can be so misled by this material, it is no wonder that uninformed citizens are similarly misled," he added.

Seek Pay Increase For Some Workers

HARRISBURG (AP)—Employes of the Senate and House would receive a $250 a year salary increase under a House-passed bill before the Senate today.

The measure was passed unanimously by the House yesterday. At the same time, after a debate that crossed party lines, the House voted 197 to 9 to increase the salary of S. Edward Mannestead, director of the Legislative Reference Bureau, from $9,000 to $12,000 a year.

Rep. Blaine C. Hocker (R-Dauphin), in opposing the increase for Mannestad, said "I can't see giving a man a 33⅓ per cent increase."

Rep. H. G. Andrews (D-Cambria), Democratic floor leader, said the head of the Legislative Reference Bureau had been "underpaid for years."

Harney

The July meeting of the Harney girls' 4-H Club was held recently at the home of Mrs. Helen Null.

The annual picnic of St. Paul's Sunday School will be held Saturday. A chicken and ham supper will be served beginning at 4 o'clock.

The Littlestown High School Band will furnish the music.

MOVIE STARS STAGE ACTS FOR JAMBOREE

By GARBER DAVIDSON

JAMBOREE CITY, Calif. (AP) — This big Boy Scout Jamboree campsite is beginning to look like a suburb of Hollywood.

The stars are moving in and the boys love it. Dorothy Lamour and Jerry Colonna wowed them at a show yesterday in one of the campfire areas of this sprawling, 3,000-acre ranch.

The cast for a big show in the main outdoor arena tonight includes Bob Hope, Jeff Chandler, Danny Kaye, Jane Powell, Debbie Reynolds, Tim McCoy and Rory Calhoun.

Miss Lamour A Hit

Miss Lamour made a big hit, with a hula dance and songs. After the show swarms of boys followed her, trying to shake her hand.

At one point the harassed actress cried, "Help! Help!—Girl Scouts!"

After the performance five boys from the Corpus Christi, Tex., area presented her with a token of their appreciation, a black goat named Tex. The boys scrawled their names on a piece of paper for a presentation card. They were William Armstrong Jr., David Denham, Roz Taylor Jr., Gene Collins and Ray Hill.

Today actors George Murphy and James Stewart, with four staffs of Hollywood technicians, are completing the shooting of an hour-long color film of the jamboree. Prints will be supplied to the U. S. State Department overseas information service for showing in other nations as a demonstration of "the American way of life in action."

One Case Of Polio

One case of polio has been reported at the jamboree but Dr. C. F. Naegele, deputy chief medical officer of the jamboree, said the boy is doing excellently and should recover without complications. The patient, Kirk Mathews, 12, of Gallup, N. M., is in the nearby Orange County Hospital. Eleven other scouts in his troop have been given immunization shots of gamma globulin.

"This one case is far below what normally would have been expected for a community the size of the jamboree in this area at the present time of year," said Dr. Naegele.

NEW YORK (AP)—The Columbia Broadcasting System says Arthur Godfrey, recovering from a recent hip operation, will resume his radio and television activities next Monday night.

CBS announced last night that, for the present, Godfrey will be seen and heard from his farm near Leesburg, Va., while other cast members perform in New York.

GIVES WARNING ON LIGHTNING

"No one can tell where lightninig will strike and rural residents should be especially on guard against this high voltage danger to life and property," declares J. Collin McSparran, secretary of the Pennsylvania State Grange. Mr. McSparran is a member of the Pennsylvania Rural Safety Council, which is cooperating with the Divison of Farm and Home Safety Education, state Department of Public Instruction, in a state-wide effort to save lives and property in rural areas.

"Last year," continued the state Grange secretary, three farm residents were killed by lightning in Pennsylvania, according to Division records. One man was 57 and two were boys, 12 years old. One was in a group of four people running across a field when lightning struck and he was killed. The other was killed while riding one of a pair of mules hitched to a spike tooth harrow. Both mules were also."

Persons having any choice of shelter during a lightning storm, says the National Safety Council, should choose in the following order: buildings protected from lightning and large metal or metal framed buildings; an automobile with metal top and body; large unprotected buildings, or small unprotected buildings.

Stay away from open doors or windows, and fireplaces, stoves, piping or other metal objects. Don't swim outdoors during a thunderstorm.

Persons who have to remain outdoors should keep away from small sheds or shelters in exposed locations, isolated trees, wire fences, and hilltops and large open spaces where protection is not provided by taller objects.

BOHLER GOING BACK

NEW YORK (AP)—Charles E. Bohlen, American ambassador to Russia, was on his way back to his Moscow post today after conferences with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles on the Lavrenty Beria purge.

Princess Margaret Dances Until 4 a.m.

LONDON (AP) — Pretty Princess Margaret celebrated her return from Rhodesia by gaily dancing over two London rooftops until 4 o'clock this morning.

The occasion was a welcome home party given the 22-year-old princess by the Marchioness of Dufferin and Ava at her tiny Knightsbridge apartment.

Because there wasn't enough room inside for dancing, the marchioness "borrowed" the flat roofs of a house and post office next to her apartment. Workmen erected two giant tents for dancing and the refreshments.

Missing was RAF Group Capt. Peter Townsend, who was transferred last week to the British Embassy in Belgium. Many Britons think he was sent abroad, because, reportedly, the princess wants to marry him.
